IN SUPPORT OF FACEBOOK, INC.,
GIBSON, DUNN & CRUTCHER LLP, AND ORIN SNYDER'S RESPONSE TO
PLAINTIFFS' SUPPLEMENTAL BRIEF
REGARDING FEES AND COSTS SOUGHT
AS SANCTIONS

1 I, Gary Greenfield, declare:

2 1. This Declaration is being filed in support of the Response of Defendant Facebook, Inc.
3 (“Defendant”) to Plaintiff’s Supplemental Brief Regarding Fees and Costs Sought as Sanctions (the 4 “Supplemental Brief re Fees”) in In re: Facebook, Inc. Consumer Privacy User Profile Litigation, 5 United States District Court for the Northern District of California, No. 3:18-02843-VC (the 6 “Action”). I have personal knowledge of the matters set forth herein, and, if called upon to testify, 7 could and would competently testify thereto.

8 2. I have been retained by Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP (“Gibson Dunn”) to provide 9 my analysis, conclusions and opinions regarding the legal fees and costs sought as sanctions by 10 Plaintiffs.

11 I. My Background

12 3. I am the founder of Litigation Cost Management (LCM), based in Oakland, California.
13 LCM commenced business in 1991. LCM is in the business of consulting regarding legal fee-related 14 issues. As part of our business, we regularly conduct analyses of both legal and expert witness fees
15 in litigation regarding the reasonableness, appropriateness and allocation of time, fees and expenses
16 being sought, as well as hourly rates. We also consult with clients regarding how to manage their 17 outside litigation more effectively and efficiently. LCM works with both law firms and clients of law 18 firms in undertaking its analyses and consulting about effective litigation management.

19 4. Prior to starting LCM in January, 1991, I was a partner in the law firm of Shartsis, 20 Friese & Ginsburg in San Francisco, California, where I was a litigator for fifteen years, having 21 become a partner in the firm in 1981. During my career at my former law firm, I handled general
22 commercial litigation, from pre-filing preparation and negotiations through trials and appeals. I
23 handled litigation of varying types, including breach of contract, constitutional law, securities, fraud, 24 bankruptcy litigation, intellectual property, unfair competition, and civil rights litigation. I 25 represented both plaintiffs and defendants. I handled both contingency cases and cases where we 26 were compensated on an hourly basis. I graduated from UC Berkeley School of Law School in 1975
27 and received my undergraduate degree from Stanford University in 1971. Attached hereto as 28

1 Exhibit 1 is my Curriculum Vitae.

2 5. Since LCM was founded, I have conducted several hundred analyses of the legal fees
3 and expenses in cases of various types and sizes, as well as the expert witness fees in certain cases.
4 These have included individual actions, multi-party suits and class actions. The cases have included
5 the full range of civil litigation, such as patent, copyright, trademark, real property, False Claims Act,
6 ERISA bankruptcy, tax, breach of contract, securities, antitrust, environmental, Public Records Act,
7 insurance coverage and bad faith, discrimination, disability, civil rights, constitutional law, inverse
8 condemnation, personal injury and products liability cases. I have myself been personally involved 9 in, conducted analysis in and supervised each of these analyses.

10 6. I have been retained on numerous occasions, both by parties seeking legal fees and 11 parties opposing requests for legal fees, to testify in person and in writing about the reasonableness
12 and appropriateness of legal fees and rates being sought in various cases throughout California and 13 nationally. As part of my work on these projects, I have prepared and submitted numerous reports on 14 attorneys' fees issues in the form of declarations, reports under Rule 26 of the Federal Rules of Civil 15 Procedures and reports in arbitrations.

16 7. I have qualified and testified as an expert witness in litigation (trials or arbitrations) 17 regarding legal and expert witness fees on at least twenty-five occasions, again both on behalf of 18 parties seeking to recover their attorneys' fees and parties opposing requests for attorneys' fees.

19 8. I was appointed a Special Master to analyze and report to the San Francisco Superior
20 Court regarding the fees and expenses of various law firms and experts in an insurance company
21 conservation proceeding (the state court equivalent of a bankruptcy proceeding under federal law)
22 before that Court.

23 9. As part of my work, I also consult with law firms and clients of law firms regarding 24 law firm billing practices, effective litigation management, and legal bill analysis and auditing 25 procedures.

26 10. I have lectured and conducted seminars for clients and law firms in each of these 27 areas. I have taught or been a speaker at a number of programs regarding analysis of legal fees, legal 28

1 bill auditing and litigation management. I have been a lecturer for the National Association of Legal 2 Fee Analysis.

3 11. For purposes of my analyses in the various cases I have been retained in and my 4 consulting work, LCM has received and I have analyzed the time entries, billing rates and expenses
5 billed in many hundreds of cases, involving law firms and law firm offices across the country. I also 6 receive and review bills and rate information in cases beyond those I work on as an expert in 7 litigation. As a result, I have reviewed the billing practices and billing rates of hundreds of firms and 8 thousands of lawyers and non-lawyers providing services in California and across the country, 9 including in the San Francisco Bay Area. I have also reviewed databases of rates and surveys of 10 billing rates published by legal periodicals and assembled by other legal consultants, including the 11 Valeo Partners database, the Thomson Reuters Legal Billing Report, the Wolters Kluwer Real Rate
12 Report, the ALM Survey of Law Firm Economics, the National Law Journal Billing Report, the 13 National Association of Legal Fee Analysis and others. I also regularly review cases and articles 14 dealing with attorneys' fees, litigation management issues, and billing rates being charged in the legal 15 industry. As a result, I am familiar with typical and commonly accepted billing practices among law
16 firms, as well as the rates typically charged by lawyers of various experience levels and expertise, 17 both in the San Francisco Bay Area and nationally.

18 12. Because of the work I have done, analyses I have undertaken in other cases, and cases,
19 materials and literature I regularly review in the legal fee area, I am also familiar with the common 20 and normal processes used by courts in analyzing the reasonableness of fees and billing rates.

21 II. Materials Reviewed and Consultations with Defendant's Counsel

22 13. In order to undertake the analyses set forth in this Declaration, I have received for 23 review the materials set out on Exhibit 2 hereto, including the Motion for Sanctions (the "Motion")
24 and the accompanying Declarations, Defendant's Opposition and the accompanying Declarations, 25 Plaintiffs' Reply Brief (the "Reply"), Plaintiffs' and Defendant's Supplemental Briefs (the 26 "Supplemental Briefs"), and Plaintiffs' Supplemental Brief re Fees and accompanying Declaration
27 ("Declaration re Fees"), including the time entries and invoices accompanying the Supplemental 28

Brief re Fees.

14. I have also consulted with and obtained information about various aspects of the proceedings from Defendant's counsel.

III. Testimony in Last Four Years and Compensation

15. Attached hereto as Exhibit 3 is a list of my testimony in trial, arbitrations or depositions in the last four years.

16. I am being compensated for my testimony at the rate of $600 per hour. We are also being paid a fixed fee for creation of the LCM database and all computer-related work.

IV. Creation of LCM Database

17. In order to facilitate my analysis of the fees sought on this Motion, as we do in most of our cases, LCM created a database of the law firm time entries filed by Plaintiffs' counsel in support of the Motion. A number of the analyses attached as Exhibits to this Declaration were generated from that database. Attached as Appendix A for reference purposes is a report of all the Plaintiffs' counsel's time entries by date and attached as Appendix B is a report of all the time entries organized by biller.

V. The Motion for Sanctions

18. Plaintiffs are seeking to recover sanctions against Defendant and Defendant's counsel for alleged misconduct in the Action. Plaintiffs are seeking $1,090,963 for work related to the Named Plaintiff Data ("NP Data") and the APP Developer Investigation ("ADI"), and $693,676.50 in connection with this Motion, totaling $1,784,639.50 in fees.¹ They are also seeking $264,497.78 for fees they paid to JAMS.

19. I have been asked to provide my analysis, conclusions and opinions regarding the reasonableness of the fees and costs sought by Plaintiffs, and to provide analyses of the time entries to assist Defendant's counsel in their Response to the Supplemental Brief re Fees.

VI. Analysis

20. First, it should be noted that this is not the type of fee-shifting case where the party

¹ A table reflecting the hours recorded and sought, and the fees sought, overall and in the sanction category, is set forth on Exhibit 4.

1 seeking to recover fees has been paying the bills on an on-going basis during the course of the case,
 2 and has managed the case and reviewed and paid the bills, often with adjustments, without certainty
 3 of reimbursement. In those types of cases, the client has a major incentive to control the fees to keep 4 the representation cost-effective because it is itself paying the fees and may not be reimbursed in 5 whole or part by the opponent in the case.² Similarly, the law firm in those types of cases has an 6 incentive to keep the representation as cost-effective as possible because the client may not pay fees
 7 or expenses it considers unnecessary or unreasonable.

8 21. In cases like the instant case, the clients are not paying the fees, so they have less 9 incentive (and probably lack the expertise) to manage the case from a cost standpoint. Nor does the 10 law firm necessarily have an incentive to keep the time billed as low as possible. In my opinion, in 11 this case, the law firms did not carefully manage the litigation from a cost standpoint, which resulted 12 in substantially unreasonable and excessive fees, nor did they use billing judgment in how the case
 13 was ultimately “billed.”³

14 22. In analyzing the time and fees in cases, one cannot evaluate the time of every (or even 15 most) activities and projects. All the information that would be necessary is not available to the 16 person undertaking the analysis (the opponent, the court, or an analyst such as myself), there is not 17 sufficient time to undertake such a review in a case of any magnitude, and, in my opinion, one cannot 18 assess the time required for most large or even moderate-sized projects in a case of this type by only 19 reviewing the file and time entries.⁴ In addition, where there is “block-billing,” as in this case,
 20 quantifying the time in individual activities can be difficult and often impossible.⁵

21 ² This is common, for example, in insurance coverage cases where an insured is seeking its fees 22 from an insurance company, and cases where the prevailing party is entitled to recover fees under statutes such as California Civil Code Section 1717.

23 ³ While Plaintiffs’ counsel were not billing their client, for convenience, I will use the term “billed”
 24 to refer to the recording of the time which has been ultimately sought by Plaintiffs.

25 ⁴ There are cases where one can review work product and compare it to the time entries, and I have 26 done so in many cases, typically by looking at how billers handled small projects and the time billed to see if there was a pattern or practice of inflating time on small projects which likely carried over to large projects. However, the block-billing by many of the billers on this case, as discussed later in the text, and the magnitude of the case, made that type of analysis here impractical.

27 ⁵ Block-billing is the practice of combining the time entries for various tasks (typically for a whole 28 day) into one entry and combining the time for all the activities without showing the time for the

23. Thus, in evaluating the fees and expenses in cases, I look for what I call “red flags”—indicia of overbilling or unreasonable time recorded or sought. Where one sees a pattern or practice that is resulting in excessive or unreasonable time in areas of a case where it can be analyzed, it is reasonable to conclude that the same practices exist in the other areas of the case that one cannot as easily analyze. That in turn is an indication that the overall time and fees in a case are substantially inflated and unreasonable.

A. Fees for the Motion for Sanctions

24. The amount billed in connection with the Motion --$1,156,127.50--is itself an indication of substantial overbilling. As the Supreme Court stated in Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 437 (1983) (“Hensley”), and as noted by Plaintiffs themselves (Declaration re Fees, para. 7), “[A] request for attorney’s fees should not result in a major litigation.” Yet Plaintiffs’ counsel billed over $1.1 million in fees, an extraordinarily high amount for any motion, let alone a motion for fees. Plaintiffs’ counsel reduced the fees sought for the sanctions portion of the Motion by 40% to $693,676.50. However, even the reduced amount is, in my opinion, substantially excessive.⁶ I have reviewed the fees in hundreds of fee motions in which fees have been sought for the fee motions themselves, a number of which have been class actions, and a motion for fees is normally in the range of $50,000 to $150,000. Even were that range doubled, it would not come remotely close to the over $1.1 million billed here or even the $693,676.50 sought after plaintiffs’ 40% adjustment.

B. Conferences Among the Law Firm Personnel

25. One area that I attempt to analyze is the billing of conferences among the law firm personnel. Communications among law firm personnel is essential in complex (or any) litigation, and there is nothing inappropriate in law firm personnel communicating with each other, whether through telephone calls, meetings, or emails, and billing for the time involved. Nor is it inappropriate individual tasks. This is a common practice among law firms, but makes precisely quantifying the time for individual tasks difficult, if not impossible. Block-billing has been discussed and criticized in many court cases, articles in legal periodicals and continuing education programs, and, as a result, lawyers and law firms—particularly those that seek fees on a regular basis as Plaintiffs’ counsel apparently does here—are well aware of the quantification problems it causes. Some of the billers block-billed some or all of their time in this case; others did not.

⁶ The reduction was not a reduction because the fees were excessive, but rather an attempt to estimate the time related to the issues for which sanctions are being sought.

1 for all the billers involved in the communications to be billing the time, as long as it is reasonable and 2 billing judgment is used in how it is ultimately billed. However, because multiple people are billing
 3 for the same activity, and it is often difficult to ascertain the time involved, particularly where there is 4 block-billing, it is an area that can easily be abused and result in excessive and unreasonable fees
 5 being billed so it is an area where use of billing judgment is particularly important.

6 26. To analyze the time here, we ran a report of the time entries that referenced 7 conferences, emails, telephone calls, meetings, and other terms that are often used to describe
 8 communications. Attached hereto as Exhibit 5 is the database report that shows the result of that 9 search. We then ran a report that attempted to remove from Exhibit 5 the block-billed entries.⁷ I then 10 reviewed the report and attempted to remove those entries that did not appear to reflect 11 communications among the law firm personnel, such as entries for conferences with Judge Andler or 12 Special Master Garrie, attendance at a status conference, communications with Defendant and other
 13 such entries. The result is a report primarily of non-block-billed entries that reflect communications 14 among Plaintiffs' counsel. Attached as Exhibit 6 is the report reflecting that analysis.

15 27. The fees billed in Exhibit 6 total over $536,000. That is an enormous amount of 16 conferencing among law firm personnel given that the total fees being sought on this Motion are 17 $1,784,639.50 (the fees in Exhibit 6 totaling just over 30 percent of the fees sought).⁸ But that is not 18 even the entire picture. The entries in Exhibit 6 are only a subset of the entries in Exhibit 5, and there 19 are hundreds of entries for conferencing in Exhibit 5 that are not included in Exhibit 6 because they 20 are part of the block-billed entries. The fees billed in Exhibit 5 total $1,289,728.25. While, like 21 Exhibit 6, Exhibit 5 contains some entries that are not communications or are communications with 22 people other than Plaintiffs' counsel, considering the time entries in the two Exhibits together, it 23 appears that somewhere between $750,000 and $1,000,000 was billed here for conferencing among 24

25 ⁷ In this case, we did that by searching on the use of a semi-colon in the entry since that is most frequently how the tasks in block-billed entries are separated.

26 ⁸ Sometimes search reports do not present an accurate picture of the work in the entries, and here 27 there are some entries, such as for conferences with opposing counsel, that are not for 28 conferencing among the law firm personnel, but my review of the Exhibit indicates that the overwhelming majority of the entries do in fact reflect communications among Plaintiffs' lawyers.

the law firm personnel--as much as half or more of the total fees being sought. That is an astonishing amount of conferencing and in my opinion is substantially unreasonable and inappropriate.

C. Multiple Biller Attendance at Litigation Events

28. Other areas I analyzed also reflect what appears to be substantial overbilling. One area I typically review in evaluating how the work was being handled overall is the attendance at certain types of litigation events, such as hearings and depositions. I do this in part because it is feasible to identify or estimate the amount of time that has been billed for the various activities and by whom. I thus looked at the number of people attending various litigation events in this case and the time and fees that were billed.

29. The time entries reflect a number of discovery mediations and other proceedings before Judge Andler and Special Master Garrie, two hearings before Judge Chhabria, and the Rule 30(b)(6) deposition of K. Papamiltiadis, an employee of Defendant. I reviewed the time entries involved in each.

30. With regard to the hearing on this Motion on September 15, 2022, nine lawyers billed for attending the hearing and other activities that day. See Exhibit 7 hereto. The nine billers billed approximately 38.10 hours and $31,057.50 in fees for preparing for, attending and “debriefing” after the hearing.⁹ In addition, five of Plaintiffs’ counsel from Keller Rohrback LLP (“Keller”) in Seattle traveled to San Francisco for the hearing (one traveled from Philadelphia) and billed for the travel time. See Exhibit 8 hereto. I estimate that 40 hours and approximately $40,000 in fees were billed for the travel time alone.¹⁰ Thus, for the nine billers who attended the hearing, I estimate that approximately 78 hours and $71,000 was billed for attending the hearing (as well as preparing and debriefing that day) and traveling to and from the hearing.¹¹

⁹ I subtracted five hours of travel time for Mr. Loeser’s traveling back that day to Seattle, for which the Keller personnel appeared to bill five hours per trip. I included that travel time in the travel analysis later in the text.

¹⁰ It appears that Plaintiffs’ counsel from Seattle typically billed five hours each way for a trip from Seattle to San Francisco or back.

¹¹ There is nothing inappropriate in having multiple billers attend hearings, depositions, or other events in person or remotely (putting aside the cost of any travel). It is often a valuable experience. The issue is the appropriateness of billing for the time of any personnel whose presence is not necessary.

31. With regard to the discovery mediations and other proceedings before Judge Andler and Special Master Garrie, there were thirty proceedings billed for in the time entries. See Exhibit 9 hereto. Of these sessions:

- a. Eight lawyers billed to attend two of the sessions;
- b. Seven lawyers billed to attend two of the sessions;
- c. Six lawyers billed to attend three of the sessions;
- d. Four or five lawyers billed for attending ten of the sessions;
- e. Three lawyers billed to attend three of the sessions; and
- f. One or two lawyers billed to attend ten of the sessions.

See Exhibit 10 hereto. Thus, six or more lawyers attended seven of the thirty sessions, and four or more lawyers attended seventeen of the sessions. Obviously, it was Plaintiffs' counsel's general practice to send a number of lawyers, and often a large number, to the discovery mediations and other proceedings. While Plaintiffs' counsel did send only one or two people to certain of these proceedings, in my opinion, the overall manner in which Plaintiffs' counsel handled these proceedings in terms of staffing was unreasonable.

32. As another example of what appears to be substantial overstaffing and therefore overbilling, eight billers attended the Rule 30(b)(6) deposition of K. Papamiltiadis on 2/23/21. See Exhibit 11 hereto.

33. In short, Plaintiffs' counsel's general practice was to send a substantial number of billers to litigation events and bill for their time where, based on my understanding of the case, it was not reasonable. While I am aware that the case involved technical issues and extensive disputes regarding what information was reasonable to seek and what was available, and at times it may have been necessary to have particular billers who were familiar with the facts relating to an issue attend a discovery mediation who otherwise might not have attended, that does not justify the general level of biller attendance indicated in Plaintiffs' counsel's time entries.

34. The amount of time billed discussed above (the time spent on the Motion, the amount billed for communicating among Plaintiffs' counsel's personnel, and the multiple biller attendance at various litigation events) not only reflects excessive time being spent, but also in my opinion a lack of billing judgment in terms of what should have been billed and what should have been written off, reflecting in part the impact of the lack of a client check on the time and fees. As stated by the Court in Hensley, it is incumbent on firms seeking fees from their opponent to exercise the same billing judgment in what they seek from opponents in a motion as they do when billing their own clients. 461 U.S. at 434. In my opinion, that did not happen here.

D. Errors in the Time Entries

35. We identified a number of errors in the bills. While it is not unusual for people to make mistakes in their time entries and bills, particularly in a large matter (it is not uncommon for example for a time entry to be billed to the wrong client), a large number of errors calls into question the reliability of the bills overall and the methodology by which they were created.

36. For example, there were five entries for attendance by various billers at discovery mediations and a hearing with Special Master Garrie which appear not to have occurred based on the JAMS invoices. See Exhibit 12 hereto.¹² It is difficult to see how this would occur if the billers were, as represented by counsel in their Joint Declaration, recording their time contemporaneously with the work being done. Declaration re Fees, para. 4.

37. There were a number of errors in the calculations of the fees as well. They are set forth on Exhibit 13 hereto. Plaintiffs' counsel's time entries have columns for the Time Spent, Compensable Time (if different from the Time Spent), the Billing Rates and the sought Fees which were supposed to be (and usually were) calculated by the compensable time multiplied by the particular biller's billing rate. However, on certain occasions, the fees sought were not the product of the compensable time multiplied by the billing rate.¹³ The Fees-Calc. column on Exhibit 13 shows the amount that should have been billed, based on the compensable time in Plaintiffs' counsel's time entries multiplied by the appropriate billing rate. Sometimes the amount actually billed and sought

¹² The JAMS invoices did not reflect mediations or the hearing with Special Master Garrie on those dates, and I confirmed with counsel for Defendant that their records do not show mediations or a hearing in front of Special Master on those dates either.

¹³ Sometimes they were the product of the time spent multiplied by the rate, even though the compensable time was different. Other times, we could not determine how the fees sought were calculated.

(as reflected in the Fees column of Plaintiffs' counsel's time entries and on Exhibit 13) was higher than what should have been billed (as reflected in the Fees-Calc. column on Exhibit 13), and sometimes it was lower. The "net" difference was an "overcharge" of $11,597, meaning $11,597 more was billed (and therefore is being sought) than should have been. See Exhibit 13.

38. Obviously, any errors must be accounted for in any fee award, but they also undercut the overall reliability of the system by which Plaintiffs' counsel were creating their time entries

VII. Summary

39. As stated above, it is impossible to review all the work in a case of this type to determine if it was reasonably billed. However, my analysis of the foregoing areas--in particular of the time related to the Motion itself, the amount of time billed for communications among the law firm personnel, and the attendance by multiple billers at various proceedings throughout the course of the case--indicates that the time billed was not reasonable and that there were patterns and practices that caused the time and therefore the resulting fees to be substantially inflated over what was reasonable and that likely carried over to other aspects of the case which cannot be as readily analyzed. Furthermore, in my opinion, plaintiffs' counsel has not exercised appropriate billing judgment in what they have ultimately sought on this Motion.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on December 7, 2022 in Alameda County, California.
